Jan A.P. Kaczmarek supports WWF

During Poznan International Film and Music Festival TRANSATLANTYK 2012, thanks to the initiative of the funder, director of the festival and renowned composer Jan A.P. Kaczmarek, the premiere of the new bio-dynamic wine Caelestis took place. All proceeds from annual charity auction sales of Caelestis are donated to the WWF in support for their work.

On the 16th of August the symbolic bio-dynamic wine Caelestis was presented for the first time in Poland during the opening dinner to the Culinary Cinema.

Jan A. P. Kaczmarek, the Oscar winning composer of the music to the film "Finding Neverland", dedicated a very special piece of music to Caelestis and wrote on its label "Pure wine brings great inspiration to my music".

The first Caelestis charity auction to the benefit of the WWF will take place in London in November. It will be preceded by the premiere of Jan A. P. Kaczmarek's music "Caelestis Impromptu" donated to Caelestis. Before the auction a cocktail with the official TRANSATLANTYK 2012 bio-dynamic wine will be served.

Next auctions of Caelestis will take place in December 2012 in New York and Hong Kong.

All proceeds are donated to the local WWF.

Bio-dynamic wines are ecological wines produced without any artificial chemical fertilisers, insecticides, fungicides and herbicides and without the use of additives in wine. Bio-dynamic viticulture and processing of the grapes are treated as a holistic system including the influence of cosmos, and therefore go further than organic.
